Angry Old Man Editor #5 // a magazine of experimental art & poetry

2018-09-08 // 10 DAYS LEFT FOR SUBMISSION
address angryoldmanmagazine.com
on address angryoldmanmagazine@gmail.com

cepts visual and concrete poetry, short stories, art, photography, collage, asemic blackout poetry, conceptual writing, flarf, found poetry, spam lit, flash fiction, e, typewriter art, computer/digital art, etc. Please submit up to five works. Work be attached separately via email. AOM accepts jpegs for visual work (no greater than 1000x1000 pixels). AOM also accepts audio/ video/animation files. Hypertext/electronic literature/e-poetry are also accepted.

non-fiction/journalism are (heartily) accepted (especially related to contemporary art). AOM indulges the non-mainstream. If you have something to say that bucks accepted (respectable) dogma (especially within so-called experimental circles), and is (probably) unpublished by both mainstream and "experimental" outlets, please feel free to submit your work only. Experimental=complete & absolute flights of fancy. Again, AOM is the self-indulgent, so go for it. Mags often say they want "experimental," but don't mean it. AOM wants your insane stuff, emphatically not the stuff that won't be published in "respectable" academic lit/poetry mags. The goal of AOM is not to promote a house name, but to try we must!

not previously published. No simultaneous submissions. Copyright remains with the artist.

Old Man publishes 4x year. include a short bio with your submission. AOM will try to reply within a month. Submit electronically.

Book is a concept, a format, a support, type of structure, a construction, it is a container, it is a resource ... ultimately it is an object and basically it is communication space.

Territory that has historically been occupied by the word, the artist takes, appropriates it and includes it among its own expressive resources. Experience your way by deploying personal baggage and unique creative skills.

Shapes, textures, texts, colors, objects, images, etc. All kinds of techniques and materials. The possible forms are endless.

By dispensing with the unidirectional rigor imposed by reading, the journeys can be surprising and more like our own world, infinitely complex, fragmented, with successive layers and mysterious folds.

extra
Artwork submitted by traditional mail won't be returned but instead another artwork will be sent to the artists.
Certificates will be issued to all participants.
A digital catalog will be published, which will also be available for download in PDF format.
A hand catalog will be printed for the visiting public with the list of participants.
