Ryan Decenzo at the Summer 2023 X Games

Ventura has long been popular with surfers who come for the perfect waves and stay for the laid-back vibes. Historians trace recreational surfing in local waters back to the 1930s, when surfers were already traveling up the coast from LA in search of perfect waves. Pro surfers including Eithan Osborne, Sage Erickson, Dane Reynolds, and Mary Osborne are resident local legends who can be spotted around town and riding the waves at their favorite breaks. Whether you want to watch skilled surfers from the beach, learn to hang ten yourself, or shop for local surf swag, the surfer lifestyle is always within easy reach in Ventura.

Adventure & Travel

If surfing the streets is more your speed, skateboarding is just as much a part of Ventura's DNA as wave riding. A longtime hot spot for the California-born sport, pro skateboarders including brothers Jake and Mike Anderson, Curren Caples, and Frankie Hill are among the sport's hometown heroes. In 2023, the world's best skateboarders and rising stars descended upon Ventura for the Summer 2023 X Games finals, drawing even more attention to the local skateboarding scene. Skateboarding legend Tony Hawk himself competed in the Vert Best Trick category to a sold-out crowd.
